Labor, Time, Clothes and Fuel Saved

BY THE USE OF

WARFIELD'S

COLD WATER SELF-WASHING SOAP!

This SOAP washes the finest as well as coarsest fabrics, in cold, warm, hard, soft or salt water, without boiling or machinery, and is guaranteed not to injure clothes in the least when used according to the directions.

One good washerwoman can do more and better washing with it than two can do in the same time with the best machines, using the ordinary soaps in market.

By using it, you get rid of the annoyance of hot water in summer, and of steam in the house (so productive of colds) in winter.

Sold by druggists everywhere. Every bottle used according to directions is warranted to cure, or money refunded.

The proprietors CHALLENGE THE WORLD to produce its superior as a remedy. Testimonials received daily in reference to the astonishing cures it has performed. It is used and recommended by prominent physicians throughout the country.

It has proved infallible for Burns, Scalds, Frozen Limbs, Bruises, Sprains, Wounds of all kinds, Pains in the side, back or shoulders, Piles, Corns, Chilblains, Chapped Hands, Stiff Neck, Ague in the face or breast, Ear Ache, Deafness, Loss of Motion of Limbs, Poisoning, Erysipelas, Inflamation of the Eyes, Inflamed Irritation of the Skin. APERIENT.

The King of Mineral Springs is the German Seltzer; and Tarrant's Effervescent Seltzer Aperient.

Is its duplicate. Letters assuring its wonderful Tonic Aperient and anti-Bilious qualities swarm in from every source. They can: and the Seltzer Aperient, when undoubtedly pure and genuine, proves the fact.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Frontier Life on the Northern Pacific.

Bayard Taylor writes: after fifteen miles of afternoon heat and dust we reached Osk Port, a temporary camp of gamblers and Anonymas, whose tents and shanties are only anchored there until they ascertain the precise point where the North Pacific Road will cross the Red River. Then they intend to found a town—a Farpolis or Kenoplis—and flourish on vice until a sterner civilization drives them away. Our drivers got their revolvers in readiness before reaching the place, and some of our party did the same. I had none, and, moreover, I knew from experience that the class is not very dangerous. In fact, I had scarcely stepped within the circle of curious and suspicious countenances, than I was recognized by the keeper of a saloon, and received a present of cigars. One of the hangers on of the place had his ear fastened to his head with court plaster—probably the antagonist of the man whom we had seen in Macaulayville, with a similar ear. This barbarous biting and chewing of the features belongs only to the Anglo-Saxon savage, who is far more brutal than the Indian he curses.

The North Pacific Road will reach Red River before the close of this year, and from this time on it will hardly be able to outrun settlement. After its first hundred miles of forest and swamp it passes through a region wholly beautiful and fertile, and a climate constantly improving in temperature. The St. Paul and Pacific Road will also reach Breckinridge in September, and may be extended within two or three years to Pembina and Fort Garry. For some hundred of miles, both to the westward and northward, there is no greater difficulty of construction than in the Platte and Humboldt Valley.

'You must not occupy this berth with your boots on,' fiercely said a steamboat captain to a passenger; to which the latter serenely replied, 'Oh, never mind, Cap.—I guess the bugs won't hurt 'em much.—They're an old pair. Let 'em rip, any how.'

As a lady fop was looking at a farm which he thought of purchasing, the owner mentioned, as an additional inducement to him to buy, that the farm had a very cold spring on it. 'Ah—aw!, said the fop, 'I wont take it then, for I have heard that a cold spring ruined the crops last year, and I don't want a place with such a drawback upon it.'

Medical knowledge for everybody. 250,000 copies sold in two years.

A Book for every Man.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, OR SELF-PRESERVATION. A Medical Treatise on the Cause and Cure of Exhausted Vitality, Premature Decline in Man, Nervous and Physical Debility, Hypochondria, and all other diseases arising from the Errors of Youth, or the Indiscretions or Excesses of mature years. This is indeed a book for every man. Price only $1.00. 256 pages, bound in cloth.

A Book for every Woman.

Entitled SEXUAL PHYSIOLOGY OF WOMAN, AND HER DISEASES; or, Woman treated of Physiologically and Pathologically, from Infancy to Old Age, with especial Illustrative Engravings. 350 pages, bound in beautiful French cloth. Price $2.00.

A Book for Everybody.

Flattered by the reception of, and great demand for, the above valuable and timely treatises, and also to meet a great need of the present age, the author has just published a new book, treating exclusively of NERVOUS AND MENTAL DISEASES. 150 pp. cloth. Price $1.00, or SENT FREE on receipt of $1 for the other two books, postage paid.

These are, beyond all comparison, the most extraordinary works on Physiology ever published. There is nothing whatever that the MARRIED or SINGLE, of EITHER SEX, can ever require or wish to know, but what is fully explained, and many matters of the most important and interesting character are introduced to which no allusion even can be found in any other works in our language. All the NEW DISCOVERIES of the author, whose experience is such as probably never before fell to the lot of any man, are given in full. No person should be without these valuable books.

"VALUABLE LOCKS.—We have received the valuable medical works published by the Peabody Medical Institute. These books are of actual merit, and should find a place in every intelligent family. They are not the cheap order of abominable trash, published by irresponsible parties, and purchased to gratify coarse tastes, but are written by a responsible professional gentleman of eminence, as a source of instruction on vital matters, concerning which lamentable ignorance exists. The important subjects presented are treated with delicacy, ability, and care, and, as an appendix, many useful prescriptions for prevailing complaints are added."—Dem. Republican, Lancaster, N. H.

NEWPORT DAILY NEWS.

MONDAY, Aug. 28, 1871.

Another Railroad Slaughter.

The present season has been unusually prolific in disasters. Almost every day we have had to chronicle a fearful loss of life in some quarter of the country or other, and of these many disasters, New England has received her full share.

Only a week ago we had the terrible calamity on the Maine Central to record. Now comes another horror nearer home. The Eastern Railroad has always been comparatively free from serious accidents but unless its managers can show some cause why this slaughter could not have been avoided, its good name will be gone forever.

From all we can learn, the fatal collision at North Chelsea, Mass., on Saturday night, was the result of pure carelessness. Two trains, going the same way and on a straight road, can not run into one another if the proper signals are displayed and a proper watchfulness manifested in the part of the engineer. Hence we must repeat, that that accident which caused the death of twenty-five individuals outright, and seriously injured from thirty to forty more, can be set down as nothing less than downright murder!

Upon somebody's shoulders rests a fearful weight of guilt, resulting from carelessness; and the proper authorities will be guilty of a great remissness of duty if they do not deal with that party as the exigencies demand.

As usual in these terrible accidents, fire and steam lent their aid to make the destruction of life more shocking. Many were scalded to death, and were a sad spectacle to behold.

On this train were several prominent men from Boston and vicinity. Among whom were Rev. Dr. Gannett, the well known pastor of the Arlington Street Church, formerly a colleague of the late Dr. Channing, and Rev. Dr. Mason of Cambridgeport, both of whom were killed. The names of no less than four Providence people are among the killed. Never before in New England has a railroad collision, involving such fearful loss of life or attended with such circumstances of horror as this, occurred.

Crop Movements.

The West is beginning to call for funds to move the season's crops. Owing to the effects of the war on the industries of France and Germany, it is reasonable to believe that the European demand for American grain and produce during the coming fall will be unusually heavy. If so, it will be fortunate for our farmers, who have abundant crops to add to the surplus left over from last year. For several weeks past, our exports of produce have exceeded the exports for the corresponding period last year, by about twenty five per cent. This is working off the old crop and making a place for the new, which is ready to begin to come forward, if there is a demand for it at paying figures.

The current shipments of cotton, we notice, are fully fifty per cent. heavier than they were last year. Accounts from the cotton districts contradict the early predictions of a short crop. Not only will the yield be at least fair, throughout the cotton States, but there is reason to believe that the acreage has been underestimated, and that the crop will be little if any inferior to last year's.

This season has been a productive one everywhere in the United States. We shall not only have an abundance of everything for our own use, but enough to supply all foreign demands that there is now any prospect will be made upon us. With peace and good government, Providence smiles upon the nation, giving us cause for both encouragement and rejoicing.

The indications of an early movement of the crops are favorable to increased activity in business and an early opening this fall. Our farmers have been holding and reserving their funds, owing to the steady decline in prices, to see how they were coming out at the end of the season's operations. When harvesting is done, and their abundant crops are ready for market, they will throw off their cautious reserve and spend their money more freely. Past economy and fair prices for their products will supply them well with funds, and we may expect them to make their purchases early for the coming winter. We shall, therefore, look for the dissipation of the feeling of panic, which seems to have unaccountably prevailed during the summer, and hope for a brisk fall and winter business in all branches of trade.

The Right Way.

About a year ago the New York Evening Post stated that Capt. Samuels, who had just previously sailed Mr. Bennett's yacht in an unsuccessful race across the Atlantic, had committed suicide. The paper made a correction the next day and made all the amends possible, but was sued for libel, the captain laying his damages at $10,000. In default of an answer the damages were assessed by a sheriff's jury at $1,000. The case has been reopened, the judge saying: "The inquest is set aside, and the case restored to the calander for a trial before a sheriff's jury. It is idle and foolish to sue an editor of a paper for a libel that he knew nothing about, and is willing to render any proper redress that a mistake calls for."

Steamer Lodona, Capt. H. R. Hovey which left New York on the 13th for New Orleans, foundering in a gale on the 18th, 75 miles south of St. Augustine, Florida, and 20 of her passengers and crew, with all the cargo, valued at $200,000 were lost. The survivors are the captain's son, 1st and 2d mates chief engineer, first assistant engineer, fireman and four sailors, the latter of whom were picked up near St Augustine, and gave the first tidings of the disaster. The captain leaves a wife and seven children at his home in Essex, Conn. The Lodona was an iron steamer of about eight hundred tons burden, built in Hull, England, in 1862 and was rated A1. During the war she was used as a blockade runner.

Wooden shelters are being raised at the entrance to Prospect Park, Brooklyn, for the accommodation of people waiting for the cars. This is eminently practical, and will be warmly appreciated.

In Hartford, they say the sale of watermelons by the quart has ceased, the fruit being too large to be measured except by a thirty foot tape line.

The inquest in the case of the death of James Renforth, the English oarsman, showed that for the past five years he had been subject to epileptic fits. The last one occurred last September, about three hours after the race at Lachine, continuing for ten minutes. Since that time Renforth had been in excellent health, but he was evidently unfitted for the exertion of the late race.

Summer Gossip.

The road to the summit of Mount Equinox is in good order.

The Equinox House, Manchester, Vt., will close for the season, October 1st.

The portly representatives of much of the wealth and aristocracy of Maine may be found at the Isle of Shoals, a charmingly situated place.

Saratoga is to have a free circulating library, to which a large number of New York merchants have subscribed very handsome sums of money.

Visitors at the Equinox House make frequent visits to the Observatory on Mt. Anthony, Bennington, Vt., and return with glowing accounts of magnificent views from that point.

Southern beauties are turning the heads and breaking the hearts of all susceptible young men at White Sulphur Springs.

The Manchester, Vt., Journal says, from this time to October first the finest weather of the season may be expected. There is no pleasanter month in the year than September among the Green Mountains.

The ladies display the most magnificent toiletts at the Saratoga balls and hops, many of them are 'imported.' Extravagant dressing does not always recommend them to those gentlemen who desire an economical wife.

Driving sacks for young ladies are made of colors, although those of white or dark blue cashmere appear to be the most fashionable. Considerable French elaboration in the style of trimming these jackets has been observed.

The Epidemic Reported at Antwerp.

The cholera being reported at Antwerp, the Italian Government has ordered the rigid quarantine of all vessels from that port. The Independence Belge discredits the reported appearance of the cholera at Antwerp. At Konigsberg, on Wednesday, there were 127 cases of cholera and 48 deaths; and at Dantzic, on the same day, 12 cases and 10 deaths are reported. The epidemic is decreasing in Russia.

Thiers' Resignation.

If there be any truth in the rumors transmitted by cable about the actual or contemplated resignation of M. Thiers, the situation is unquestionably sufficiently grave. With all his obvious short comings, M. Thiers, is the one man in France who can hold the balance between parties who are bitterly hostile to each other, and who can, by keeping them in check, postpone that conflict which, beginning in the Legislative Chamber, would not improbably end in civil strife. France wants, above all, rest and breathing time. That the country at large trusts M. Thiers is obvious from the readiness with which popular hoards were opened to subscribe to the loan submitted under his auspices. The proper course for all parties to pursue is to appeal to the country to elect an Assembly about whose authority there can be no question. It is hardly possible to doubt that a body of representatives would be returned favorable to the present Executive, and possessing a much larger infusion of Republicans than the Assembly now squabbling at Versailles.

GEOLOGY.—In digging the well in the Coddington School house yard several distinct strata have been passed through which would present an interesting study to the geologist. First the workmen struck upon a ledge a few feet below the surface around which a thick layer of soft mud was deposited. Passing through this, they came to a curious stone formation. The stone was not in a very hard state, but inside were specimens of fossil wood, and leaves, and other curious articles imbedded. Next below this a vein of coal was struck upon, which has proved, upon trial in a furnace, the pure article. Several times heretofore, in various parts of the town, coal has been found which makes it pretty evident that this whole city rests on an enormous coal bed.

YACHTING.—Last week was a very unsatisfactory week with the yachtmen in our harbor. Only one race was successfully carried out although the programme included a contest for nearly every day during the week. The race for the citizen's cup, on Saturday was a failure owing to the lack of wind. The weather looked unpropitious in the morning, but tired of the long delay the aquatic sportsmen determined to try the elements hoping that things might prove more favorable than they at first appeared. Accordingly seven yachts, the Alarm, Madgie, Palmer, Tidal Wave, Dauntless, Columbia, and Sappho, got under way and started at about half past eleven. The wind which was light in the beginning, soon died out entirely. All hope of making the course in time now being given up, the yachts headed about for Newport, where they arrived late in the evening. But few people witnessed the start, and very little interest was manifested, as not many suspected that the race would come off.

The Vineyard Camp Ground.

The storm at the camp ground on Thursday morning was very heavy and the lightning struck in three different places. A correspondent of the New Bedford Standard says the most damage was done to the cottage of Prof. Wm. Ellenwood, of Brooklyn, at Vineyard Highlands. The building was in an unfinished state. The fluid penetrated the roof at the ridge and scattered through the house, taking slivers off from a number of the rafters and studs, and shivering some of them quite badly. It also passed down a ladder which was leaning against the building, making splinters of one side of it for nearly the whole length. The ground was struck a few rods from the house. The third was an unfinished cottage in the south part of the grounds, to which no material damage was done.

Literary Notices.

HEARTH AND HOME for the current week has a double page series of illustrations of the Vineyard Camp Meeting Grounds and Cottages, excellent and accurate pictures. The other illustrations and the contents are as usual good.

EVERY SATURDAY has a portrait of Earl Russell; an amusing pennical picture entitled 'Heighho—the Wind and the Rain!' eleven illustrations of the Waverley novels; Roustabouts on the Mississippi testify to their being drawn from the life, and The Captain and scene on the guards bespeak the same origin, as also Deck Passengers.

HARPER'S WEEKLY for the current week, beside profuse illustrations, embracing several of Nast's admirable pictures on the New York officials, and views of the palatial quarters of Tweed, Ingersoll, Garvey & Co., commences the publication of a new serial by the celebrated novelist, Wilkie Collins. The story bears the unique title of 'Poor Miss Finch,' and is profusely and handsomely illustrated.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE, No. 1421, contains Literature and Dogma, by Matthew Arnold, The Tasmanian Devil, The Songstresses of Scotland, Humboldt, Miss Austen's Lady Susan, The Salt of the Earth, Greenland, Our Tyrant, the Constitution of the German Empire, A Professional Vagrant &c.

THE LADY'S FRIEND for September opens with a steel plate, The Haunted House, a very fine moonlight picture, exquisitely cut. The colored Fashion plate is remarkably handsome. The music is that saddest of all sad songs—'The long, long, weary day,' the words in English and in German; 'Will he Return to her?' leads off the literary department.

Another Railroad Horror.

AN APPALLLING CATASTROPHE.

FATAL COLLISION AT NORTH CHELSEA, MASS.

BOSTON, Aug. 27.

An accident occurred on the Eastern Railroad, at the Revere (formerly North Chelsea) station— a point seven or eight miles from Boston. The country here is level, and the track of the road is straight for a long distance beyond the station and curves a trifle to the left, as it appears to one looking toward Boston.

The two trains which collided were going in the same direction, both being outward bound. The first consisted of two engines, two being used as a matter of convenience to the road, and not because the load was tremendously large or beyond the capacity of one locomotive to pull—a baggage car, smoking car, and three passenger cars. It was known as the "Beverly train" and should have left Boston at half past seven o'clock; but owing to delay on account of some camp meeting train, as we were informed, its departure was deferred until about twenty minutes to eight o'clock. It was conductor Nolan's train.

After leaving Boston its progress was unobstructed until it reached Everett, where we learn it was compelled to wait a few minutes for another train over the Sagus branch. (This explanation we give as received from a passenger, although ambiguous.) At any rate, when this train reached Revere, it was some fifteen or twenty minutes behind time.

The other train was the Portland and Bangor express, drawn by the locomotive Newburyport, William Brown engineer, and it consisted of a baggage, and one or two ordinary passenger, and one or more Pullman cars. It started on time at 8 o'clock.

THE COLLISION.

The last mentioned train being an "express" made only one stop—at Somerville—before the collision. It was under full headway when near the Revere Station, and the engineer was evidently not aware of the proximity of the Beverly train, until within perhaps sixty rods of it. He then whistled, down brakes" and it is presumed the brakes were applied; but not soon enough to avert the calamity. Some of those in the rear part of the Beverly train heard the ominous whistle, but too late to escape. On came the express train at great velocity, and the engine struck the rearmost car full in the centre and forced its way in 'telescope' fashion two-thirds of the length of the car. The smoke-stack was instantly knocked off and the boiler penetrated all of the distance named into the rear car, the rear part of the latter being debris being thrown out on either side of the engine's tender. Of the rear half of the car not a fragment as big as a house window could be found. The forepart of the engine was utterly demolished, its pistons bent and its rods broken. The car was crowded with people, every seat being occupied and many standing in the aisle. In among these the locomotive rushed quick as a flash, just as the Beverly train had started, crushing, bruising, mangling and killing in the most frightful manner conceivable. But this was not the only and perhaps not the worst visitor the unfortunate passengers had. Simultaneously with the collision the connecting pipes of the engine were broken, and in an instant the wretched sufferers were shrouded in a cloud of blinding, hissing steam, and deluged with boiling water, which brought instant death to many of the wounded, and will prove fatal to others who had probably not been otherwise seriously injured. The oil lamps spilled their contents and fire here, if any, was undoubtedly extinguished by the water and steam. Although the Beverly train was just moving, when the collision took place, this motion did not prevent injury in the way of breakage to the cars in front of the last one. The coupling between the two rear cars broke, and the platforms of all of them were jammed up together, the smoking car overlapping the baggage car, and rods and timbers were inextricably mixed and interwoven. Fortunately the entanglement was not so great but that the passengers succeeded in getting out quite speedily. Happily was it for them they did so, for thus they escaped another destroying fiend. The kerosene oil lamps were upset and their contents spilled upon the upholstery, and in an instant the smoking car was in a blaze. The greedy flames traveled with great speed from one car to another, until three of them were embraced in the fiery folds. These were subsequently moved up the track half-a-dozen rods so that the flames should not interfere with the sufferers in the rear car, and then they were allowed to burn until there was nothing left for fire to feed upon. An effort was at first made to put out the fire, but this was prevented and the flames were useful in lighting up the dreadful scene in the rear, and facilitate the services for the wounded. Several persons in these front cars were quite painfully bruised, three that we heard of being rather badly injured, but persons who had sustained small bruises could be counted by the score.

TO THE RESCUE.

As soon as the passengers could collect their senses, those who were not disabled hurried out of both the Pullman and Beverly trains, and hastened to render all possible aid to the wounded. No telegraph office was here, or at least no wires could be worked. A messenger was mounted on a fleet horse and dispatched at breakneck speed to Chelsea for aid, He started the R. S. Frost Hose Company, just arrived home from an excursion to Providence, on their way to put out fire, and they, with some of their Providence friends, rendered efficient service. The local police were on hand and active, and all the neighbors threw open their houses as temporary hospitals, and turned out to render such assistance as they could. As the news spread through Chelsea hundreds of people in single teams and job wagons, rigged up hastily for a score, after the fashion seen at country fairs, and on foot, led by curiosity repaired to the scene of the disaster.

A DREADFUL SCENE.

As will be understood from what has gone before the central point of interest was the rear car of the Beverly train. It had stopped exactly abreast the depot. Thither the passengers and others at once repaired—too many to work effectively, yet all who could lend a hand did so. The shrieks and groans of the wounded and scalded, their frantic calls for help and their wild ejaculations caused by a frenzy of pain formed a continuation of sounds such as no mortal ear desired to hear a second time. But they inspired the people to renewed exertion in their behalf. The axe was applied vigorously and soon a rope was applied to the sides of the car and all the remaining framework was pulled asunder.

The dead and mangled bodies were taken out carefully and speedily, and placed on the platform or in the depot Some were pinned with splinters, some had arms and legs broken, while others were mangled beyond recognition. Many, in fact the majority of the dead, were apparently free from bruises, but the peeling skin and deathly pallor which overspread the flesh told plainly that steam and scalding water had been frightful and affective agents of death. The bustle, the confusion, the flashing of lanterns, the running to and fro, the whistles, shrieks and the bell ringing of engines, which had meantime come with cars to assist in the removal of cars of all who must be moved, and the glare over all the conflagration but a few rods off, made the picture an awful one, and when coupled with the reflections which it inspired, it became absolutely revolting.

Mr. Edward F. Sanborn, of Providence, R. I., was shockingly scalded, and was borne in a carriage to the Marine Hospital in Chelsea. The skin and flesh were dropping from his hands, and his body was a sickening sight to behold. He died early this morning. Most of the victims who were carried to the neighboring houses, those whose condition did not prevent their removal, were afterwards transported to the various hospitals of Boston and vicinity. Following is a list of those who remained at twelve o'clock. Anna Kawson, of Lynn, very severely scalded and not expected to survive; Mr. Allen, of Lynn, also, scalded; Mr. Mansfield, of Salem, scaled and bruised; Mary Lee, of Salem, scalded and arm broken; Mrs Shattuck and son, of Salem, both severely scalded.

THE DEAD.

BOSTON, Aug. 27.

The following is the list of persons killed who have died up to the present time:

Harriet F. Shattuck, of Lynn; Charles B. Shattuck, her son, Lynn; Susan F. Cheney, Lynn; E. F. Sanborn, Providence, died at Marine Hospital; Ella Pearson, Lynn; James Burnes, Lynn; Earnest Merrill, Danvers; Hervey A. Foster, Providence; Miss Foster, his sister; William H. Emerson, Providence; George W. Bancroft, firm of C. C. Farewell & Co., Peabody; John B. Wells, Boston; Thomas F. Bancroft, firm of Purington & Bancroft, Lynn; Rev S. R. Mason, D.D., Cambridgeport; Rev. Ezra S. Gaunett, D.D., Boston; Aaron Erickson, Swampscott; Richard Fitzpatrick, unknown; F. G. Swallow, Swampscott; William A. Seele, Beverly; Mrs. I. C. Jasper, unknown; John B. Wells, died at Massachusetts Hospital; Mary A. Crowley, died at Massachusetts Hospital; two bodies unrecognized, making twenty-five.

Rev. Dr. Gannett was on his way to Beverly where he was to preach today.

THE TOTAL NUMBER INJURED

was between thirty and forty, most of whom are likely to recover. The dead were removed from the scene of the accident this afternoon.

Dr. Gaunett was recognized to-day, noon, and was killed by his chest being crushed. He was the well known pastor of the Arlington Street Church and formerly a colleague of the late Dr. Channing, and a man whose loss will be severely felt by the community.

Dr. Mason, of Cambridgeport, was also a man of note, and greatly beloved by his congregation, the Baptists, leaving a void that cannot be easily filled.

Public sentiment throws the fearful responsibility upon the conductor and engineer of the express train.

The engineer escaped with a few bruises, by jumping from the train.

The accommodation train was three-quarters of an hour late, which fact, it is said, was known to the express train managers.

One More Added to the Death List.

About two o'clock to-day, a young man, a resident of Chelsea, was standing on the platform of a car reviewing the ruins at Revere, when the car started throwing him off, striking his head upon a rail. He is supposed to be fatally injured.

Most effective measures are about to be taken in Massachusetts, to prepare for the dead visit of Asiatic cholera.

A bank with a capital of $100,000 has recently been organized at Littleton, N. H., called the Littleton National Bank.

Medical Mistakes.

It took the faculty about a thousand years to discover that the best way to cure disease was not to render the patient too weak to contend with it.—Within the last twenty years, however, the whole system of medical practice has been changed for the better. In diseases or complaints caused by excessive heat, for instance, the doctors no longer recommend the reduction of the invalid's strength by prostrating medicines. The vast success which has attended the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a remedy for debility, has given even the most prejudiced members of the old school an insight into the only true and rational theory of cure. Cantharides, calomel, and overpowering doses of opium, are now among the obsolete nostrums of another age. The lancet, once as much the legitimate weapon of the physician as the sword is of the soldier, is seldom drawn from its case. The principle of life is no longer drained from the veins by the quart, and water-gruel for the strengthless invalid has ceased to be considered an appropriate diet. Vigor is the motto of the rational members of the profession, and they understand, at last, the value of a sterling vegetable tonic. So, also, with the people at large; and without consulting medical men at all, they have adopted the bitters as a household remedy, thereby economizing both cash and health.

Note the fact, that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is sold in bottles only, never in bulk, and that the abortions springing up in various parts of the country, and sometimes offered as substitutes for the great national specific, are all utterly worthless.

Families always have missed the comfort and quiet of home at the majority of hotels. They need do so no longer, when visiting Boston. At the AMERICAN HOUSE, light, airy and quiet rooms, en suite or single, may always be obtained.

For Internal Use,

Barrone's Lotion should be taken in half or one teaspoonful doses, in a half cup of hot water, well sweetened; and a dose should always be taken before applying externally, to keep pain from the stomach. eo3

MANIOCA! MANIOCA!—The great East Indian delicacy. Puddings, blanc mange, &c., are so delicious when made from HILL'S EAST INDIAN MANIOCA, that it is welcomed at every table. It is the most nutritious vegetable production yet discovered, and is nature's greatest blessing to invalids. One package makes six delicious puddings for 25 cents. Sold by all grocers. Consumption,
ITS CURE AND ITS PREVENTIVE,
By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proved means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr. Schenck has in his own case proven that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here, then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Podophillum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing, without its previous tortures. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gatherings it prepares them for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten throne that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room, until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country in the fall and winter season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased; and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet; they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patients must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption; confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of, and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pains and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since."

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompany them: First, create appetite. Of returning health hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the despairing at once be of good cheer. Good blood at once follows, the cough loosens, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation; while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylacteric against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50, a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

SIR:—I have examined the GUARDIAN LIGHTNING ROD AND POINTS, constructed of Galvanized Iron with spiral twist, copper couplings and gilded joints and consider it to be constructed on scientific principles, and to afford efficient protection against damage by lightning.

Yours, respectfully,
JOHN H. APPLETON,
Professor of Chemistry.

In all, with three or four exceptions, old rods were removed which were found to be in the worst possible condition, defective at the joints and badly eaten up with rust.

Parties who desire to have their Rods examined by leaving their orders at the office of STEWART'S STABLES, Pelham street, or with S. T. HUBBARD, Grocer, foot of Washington Square, will be promptly attended to free of charge by the undersigned, Agent of the Guardian Lightning Rod Co.

NEW YORK, 26th.

The Times charges point-blank falsehood on Mayor Hall this morning, asserting that in the report sent in by him he has omitted large items paid for carpets, shades, repairs, etc., to J. A. Smith, R. J. Hennessey, I. C. Cushman, and others.

The Democratic papers are much distressed at the success of the new Government loan. They now declare that the bankers holding the 5 20s were bullied and threatened into taking it.

Warlike Movements in Russia and Germany.

NEW YORK, 26th.

Late advices seem to corroborate the active arming of Russia and the remodelling of the entire army, in expectation of war with Germany, which is preparing to form allowances with Austria and Italy against France and Russia combined. In diplomatic circles in St. Petersburg, Berlin, Vienna and Rome this intention is said to be understood.

It is believed everywhere that France must have another war to strengthen her rulers. Whoever they be, and if it be not against her old enemy she will make cause of hostility with Italy or England.

NEWPORT DAILY NEWS

Effect of Various Manures on the Growth of Grass.

Experiments have been recently instituted by the Agricultural College at Worms, Bavaria, for the purpose of ascertaining the relative effect of several different manures upon the growth of grass. In presenting an account of the results obtained, we may state for the more satisfactory understanding of the subject, that the "morgen" amounts to nearly three fifths of an acre. Muck increased the yield of hay, per morgen, by 7 cwt., but deteriorated the quality of the grass. But this is believed to have resulted from the use of muck not sufficiently seasoned by exposure to atmospheric action. Human excrement gave an increase of 13 3-4 cwt., per morgen while the growth was very thick even in the poorest places. The cows, however, refused to eat the grass, although they appeared to have no objection to the hay. It was believed that the grass of the following season would be palatable to them. Liquid manure from stable drains and sinks had a powerful effect, and increased the crop of hay by 14 1-2 cwt. per morgen. The grass was good, but the flowering herbs disappeared. Two cwt. of bone dust, fermented in a compost of earth and liquid manure, increased the yield of hay, per morgen, 12 cwt., and developed an abundance of white and red clover; and its influence, it was thought, would extend through several seasons. But the best effect as to the quality, though not the quantity of grass, was obtained by the application of potash salts. The grass was fine and tender, and almost free from the coarse herbs, with an increased yield of 11 1-2 cwt. per morgen.

Each Ticket will consist of four quarters, value: $2.50 each. The holder is entitled to admission to the Concert and to the amount of gift awarded to it or its fraction. Tickets number from 1 to 100,000.

The Citizens' Bank of Kentucky is Treasurer.

All Moneys arising from the sale of Tickets will be deposited with the Citizens' Bank, subject only to the order of the President and Counselor of the Library, countersigned by the Business Manager.

During the Concert the sum of

$550,000 in Greenbacks

Will be distributed by lot to the holders of tickets, in the following Gifts, viz:

721 Prizes in all	$550,000

After paying the expenses of the enterprise and making the distribution of the Gifts, the balance of the proceeds arising from the sale of tickets will be appropriated to the establishment of a Free Library in Louisville, to be Called the Public Library of Kentucky.

The Concert and Distribution will take place under the immediate supervision of the Trustees named in the act of incorporation.

The trustees will be assisted by well known and eminent citizens of Kentucky, who have consented to be present at the concert and to superintend the drawing and distribution of gifts.

The holders of tickets to which gifts are awarded will be paid on presentation of them or their fraction, at the office in Louisville, the second day after drawing, and every business day for six months thereafter, and may be sent direct or through any Bank or Express Co., for collection. All orders accompanied by Drafts, Post Office Money Orders, or Greenbacks, will be promptly attended to and tickets returned by mail, registered or expressed, as desired.

Tickets are like Greenbacks—good only to the holder.

Buyers will note that there are only One Hundred Thousand Tickets, instead of Two Hundred Thousand, as in the San Francisco Gift Concert, and that there is $50,000 more distributed. I sold that and made the awards in four months and paid $488,000 to ticket holders from Nov. 3d to 15th, 1870, and turned over $12,000 to the Secretary due tickets not presented.

It will be particularly noticed that it is a matter of impossibility for any one to know what numbers draw gifts, as it is not known what the gift of any number drawn from the first wheel will be, until the sealed box, with amount of the gift plainly printed, is taken from the other wheel and opened in full view of the audience, therefore the larger gifts may not come out until towards the last, or in the middle of the drawing. The $100,000 gift in the San Francisco Gift Concert under the management of C. R. Peters, was the 709th number drawn, and was awarded and paid to a gentleman in New Orleans. 721 Gifts is all that can be drawn in one day.

The Numbers and Gifts are drawn by blind children from 8 to 14 years of age.

The Drawing will be extensively published, and parties ordering Tickets will have printed lists sent them. Parties forming Clubs and desiring information will please address this office.

11 Tickets for $100; 28 Tickets, $255; 56 Tickets, $500; 112 Tickets, $1000.

The undersigned, late principal business manager of the very successful Mercantile Library Gift Concert at San Francisco, California, has been appointed agent and manager of the Gift Concert in aid of the Public Library of Kentucky.

The drawing will take place in public, and everything will be done to satisfy buyers of tickets that their interests will be as well protected as if they personally superintended the entire affair.

MANNER OF DRAWING.

There will be two glass wheels. One wheel will contain 100,000 numbers, plainly printed on leather tags. The other wheel will contain 721 boxes, each containing a gift. One tag or number will be drawn from the 100,000 wheel, and the first box drawn from the second for 721 box wheel, will contain a gift, neatly printed and sealed up, and the gift so drawn from the second wheel will be the gift of the tag first drawn, whether $100 $1,000 or $100,000, as announced.

14,364 Tickets Disposed of in July.

To insure ticket holders, the public are assured that if only 25,000 tickets are sold only 25,000 numbers go in the large wheel, the 721 gifts awarded, but diminished pro rata. In case 60,000 tickets only are sold, only numbers 1 to 60,000 go in the large wheel, and the 721 gifts diminished one-half; and in case only 63,000 tickets are sold the entire 721 gifts will be paid in full—it being intended that no unsold tickets shall participate.

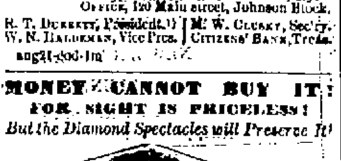

The Manager has already paid into the Citizens' Bank $50,000 towards defraying the expenses, and does not depend on sales of tickets to pay his expenses of Printing, Advertising, &c. The public are invited to the utmost scrutiny as to the reliability of the entire affair.

Persons desirous of acting as agents for the sale of tickets in any city in the United States or Canada's, address
